An Embodiment of the Arts

Nelson County High School

Lovingston, Virginia

Foreword

"An embodiment of the arts - Nelson County High School" is stated on the title page. In explanation the term art must be defined - skill acquired by experience, study, or observation. This definition may be applied to all branches of learning.

Little do some people realize that a school, aside from being a five-day-a-week habit is also an institution of art. From the administration through the student body we are all artists. Those who head our school display the art of leadership and management; a teacher who does a good job presenting to her students the knowledge and skills that she has acquired in the past may easily be considered an artist. There is also an art of learning. To be able to comprehend and use materials takes not only the God-given ability to think, but also the skill to use what there is.

Aside from the academic arts taught us, each of us receives opportunities to learn how to live with the people around us through the fellowship of the various school activities, organizations, social and sports events. Learning the principles of fair play and personal consideration prepares us - the students of Nelson County High School - for mastering the art of living.

Therefore, looking upon our lives as pictures that we are painting by every word and deed (and we hope to produce masterpieces) and Nelson County High School as an institution of art, we invite you to look through your 1963 Thos. Nelson, Jr.

Dedication

They have understood our problems, assisted us with patience of steel, listened to our complaints with an admirable smile, inspired us with confidence, encouraged us when we were disheartened, and enhanced our chance for success.

Their determined effort to make us satisfied and happy shall always be remembered as one of our most precious high school memories. Words can't express our appreciation for their various contributions; but to show how much we love, honor, and respect them, the 1963 Thos. Nelson, Jr. Staff dedicates the '63 Thos. Nelson, Jr. to the parents of the Senior Class.

He is the greatest artist who has embodied in the sum of his works, the greatest number of the greatest ideas.

Administration

MR. GRAHAM HEATH
Chairman of Nelson County School Board

In expressing to the class of '63, the faculty and to all the student body, my warmest regards and congratulations for a most successful year, I should like to recall that Victor Hugo supposedly said: "Greater than the tread of mighty armies is an idea whose hour has come."

I am proud to have been associated with our high school since it was only an idea in the minds of a few of our people and am confident that the ideas formulated here among the students and carefully nurtured by the faculty will indeed, "when the hour has come," prove greater than the tread of mighty armies and will reflect with great honor upon you and our school.

MR. J. B. M. CARTER
Superintendent

Our school exists for those of an inquiring mind and is a wonderful opportunity for the students to develop to the greatest possible extent according to their own individual gifts.

The nature of the times demands that we send out students who are physically fit, morally stable, informed and loyal citizens, and who have the foundation to be skilled and efficient workers.

I feel that Nelson County High School has fulfilled its obligations to the seniors who are graduating this year.

My congratulations to the class of 1963.

MRS. REEFA McGUFFIN
General Supervisor

MR. RICHARD MOON
Visiting Teacher

These Hands Hold the Reins

Mrs. French Boone (left) and Mrs. June Dale Harris (right) are working on the payroll, one of the many duties they assume as secretaries to the School Board.

MR. J. W. HARVILLE
Principal

To the Class of '63:

I shall always remember with many fond memories each of you. I sincerely trust that you too, will always remember Nelson County High School, and that these recollections will be of such a nature that you will always be a staunch supporter of your alma mater.

The time to commence is here as you will soon receive a diploma. May this diploma be the key which will open the door of unlimited opportunities for success in your chosen field of endeavor. Strive always to do the best you can - be ever loyal, honest, and trustworthy in all you undertake. May each of you live the good Christian life, and be of service to your community, your state, and your country. Remember always too, that the basis of our democratic society is the family, for upon Christian family living depends the future of our country.

I feel quite confident in the future of our country, for as it rests in your hands, the youth of Nelson County and America, I, too, can rest secure and know that our way of life will continue.

May God bless each and every one of you.

Sincerely,

J W Harville

Dan Gusmerotti, assistant principal of Nelson County High School, is an answer to prayer in the field of administration. If he ever has an idle moment no one has discovered that fact. Yet he is never too busy to listen to any problem, large or small. This he does with such grace and dignity that everyone who consults him goes away with renewed enthusiasm.

The Front Office

Mrs. White, our efficient secretary, is the one we see when we come in on a late bus, want pencils or paper, are late to class, want to sign up a date for the dance, want the master key, and a thousand and one other things. In other words, she is an important person in our life.

Familiar Scenes Around School

Our very able maintenance man, Mr. Murrell Morris, is "Mr. Fix-it." When the furnace does not behave, when light switches will not work, when anything goes wrong we send for him.

This is a familiar scene, especially at examination time. Mrs. Parr and Mrs. Gardner are making copies of their examinations.

No one has kept a record of the number of times students request the master locker key daily, but it is generally agreed that Joe Marks holds the record.

Mrs. Poindexter and Mrs. Reed pick up the mail, report cards, library notices of overdue books, and all those interesting looking things that appear in teachers' mailboxes

The whole art of teaching is only the art of awakening the natural curiosity of young minds for the purpose of satisfying it afterwards.

- Anatole France.

of Teaching

Mrs. Coleman is busy looking over the results of the SCAT and STEP Tests.

The services of the Guidance Department have been enlarged by increasing to four class periods the time allotted to Mrs. Catherine Whitehead for counseling and related guidance activities and the addition of a third teacher-counselor, Mrs. Lucy Poindexter, who works with eighth graders.

New display racks containing educational and vocational information, which all students are invited to use, have been placed in the department.

Filing is an endless task for Mrs. Whitehead.

Our Custodians

All of us are justly proud of our fine, clean school. Visitors often admire our well-kept halls, rooms, and other facilities. Of course, we all work to keep it so, but most of the credit goes to our custodians. We see them every day as they go about their task cheerfully, courteously, and efficiently, and during the summer while most of us are vacationing, they are busy seeing that the building is in the same apple-pie order it was eight years ago.

May blessings be upon the head of Cadmus, or the Phoenicians, or whoever invented books! . . . An art that carries the voice of man to the extremities of earth, and to the latest generation.

The Future Business Leaders of America is the national organization for students enrolled in business subjects.

One of the organization's chief objectives is to develop strong, competent, and aggressive leadership so that future businessmen and women may participate more effectively in the business and community life of which they are a part. Our members lead and participate in group discussions, preside at meetings, and participate in worthy undertakings for the improvement of the school, business and the community.

Belonging to FBLA is an honor that carries with it a responsibility.

Here are the business leaders of tomorrow.

The primary aim of the F.F.A. is the development of agricultural leadership, cooperation, and citizenship. The chapter is composed of boys enrolled in vocational agriculture. A program of work is set up each year. Through this program of activities the cooperative spirit is fostered and individual talent is discovered and developed. The purposes of F.F.A. are well suited to the needs of the agricultural student regardless of his occupational choice.

These boys have faith in the future of agriculture.

New Business Courses Prove Successful,

One of the new additions to the Business Department is the course in Recordkeeping. It was set up to equip students with basic vocational skills that are common to clerical office jobs. Becky Lunsford, Virginia Campbell, and Shirley Johnson are shown here preparing statements for their accounts receivable.

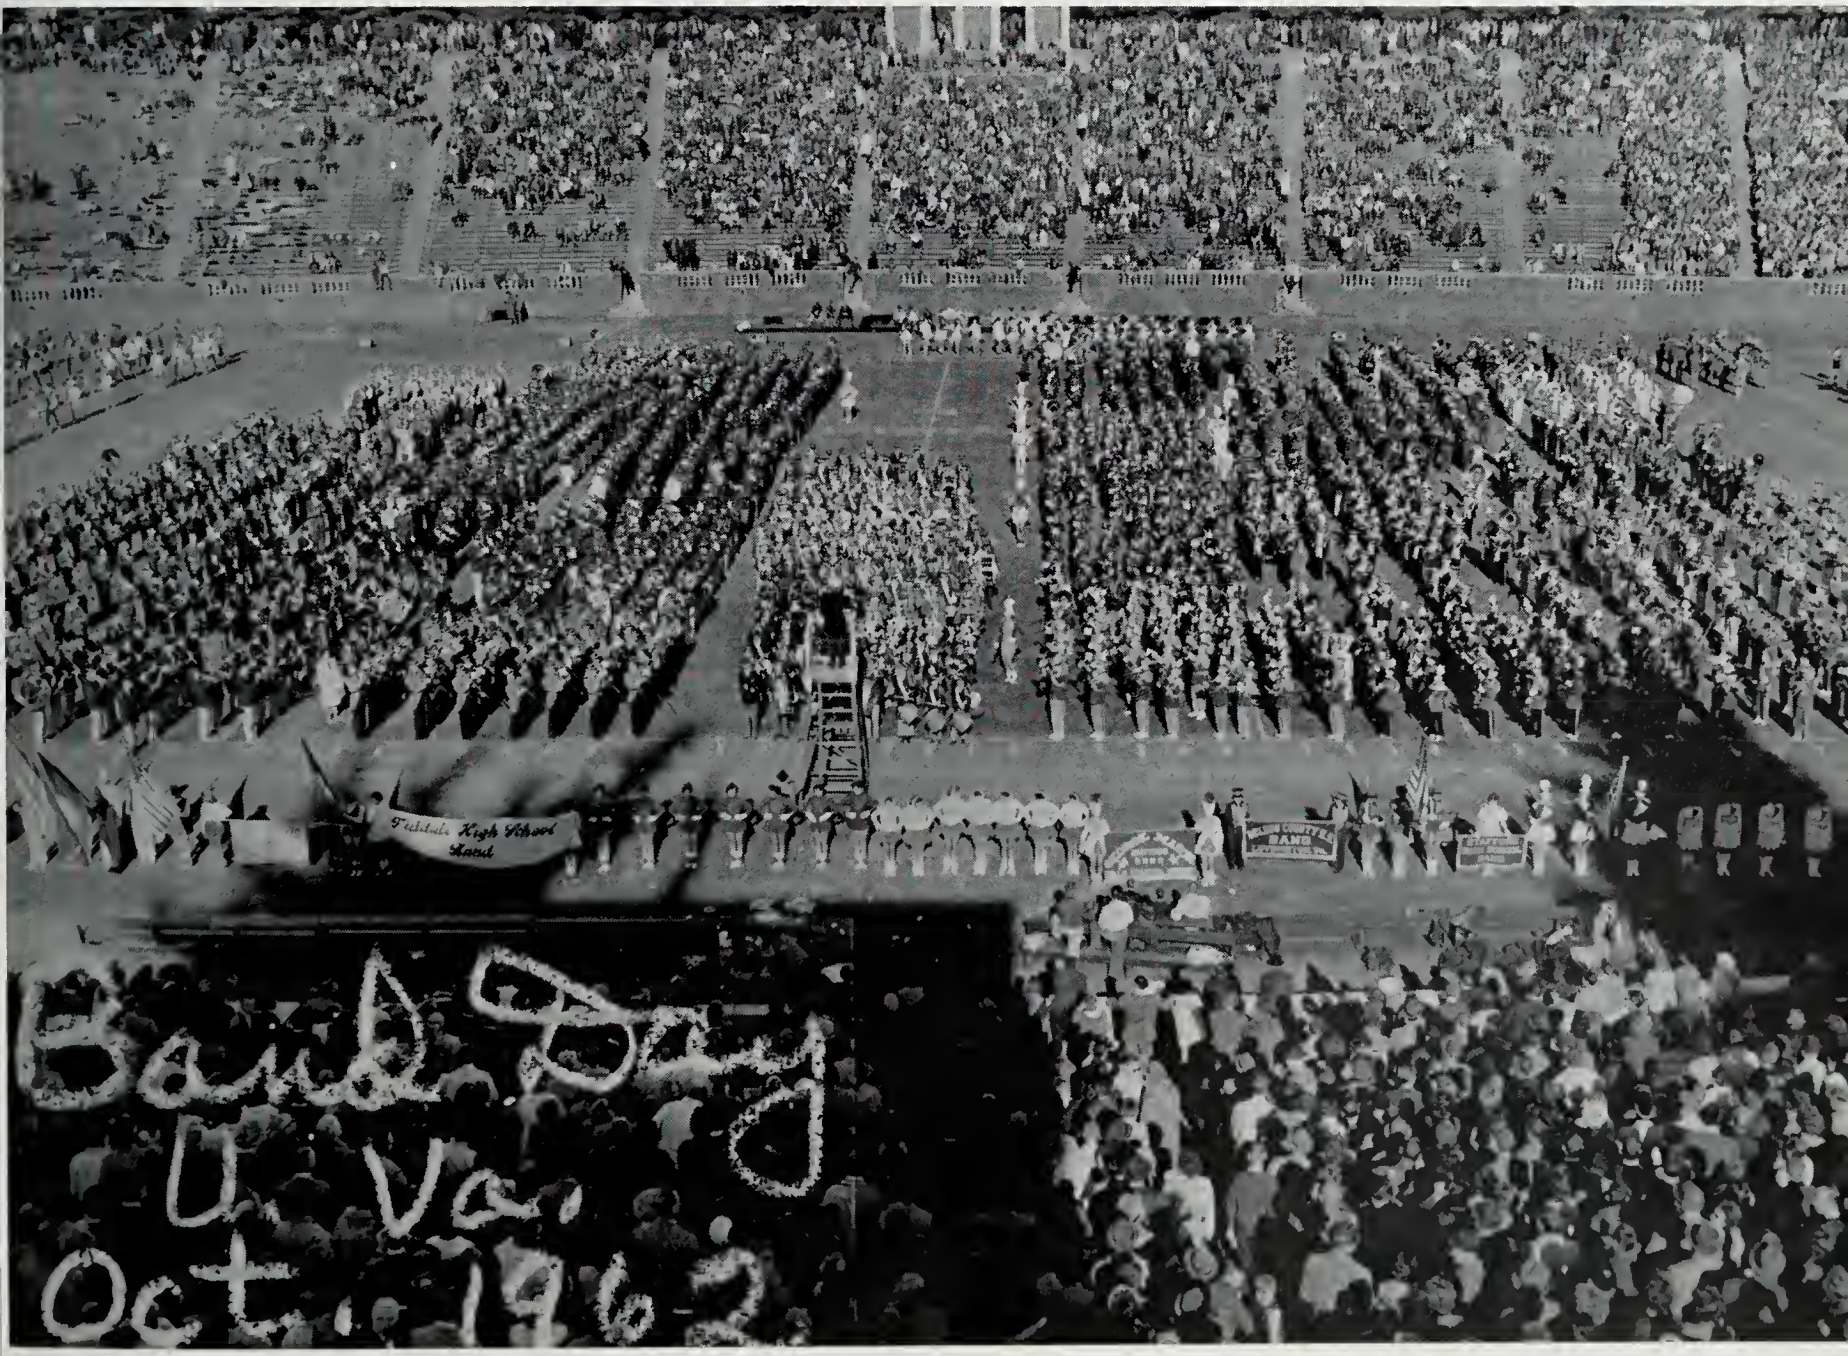

Another new addition to the Business Department is the course in Secretarial Office Practice. This course was designed as a terminal course for those senior Business students who plan to enter the employment field immediately upon high school graduation. # Coach League Comments

Nelson started the season with only 18 boys including thirteen Sophomores on the varsity team.

Mr. C. M. Price, a star tackler for North Carolina State joined the coaching staff this year. He took charge of a very green line and molded it into a strong forward wall.

We had eight Sophomores on the starting team which won 3 and lost 7 games.

The highlight of the season was our 13-12 victory over arch rival, Amherst, when Donald Napier broke through to block an extra point in the final minute of the ball game.

We are looking forward to the next two seasons when these Sophomores will be the championship team that Nelson can be proud of.

THE CENTRAL VIRGINIA ELECTRIC COOPERATIVE

Lovingston, Virginia

Central Virginia Electric Cooperative Serves You By:

Providing Electric Service

Central Virginia Electric Cooperative was organized in 1937 by the rural people of its 13 County Area to serve the electric needs of rural Central Virginia. Prior to 1937 less than 10% of the families had electric service. More than 97% of our area is now electrified and at a lower cost per KWH than in 1937.

Sharing the Tax Burden:

As a public utility Central Virginia Electric Cooperative paid more than $86,700.00 in state and local taxes in 1962.

Creating Jobs:

Employs local people and trains them for permanent jobs locally. In addition to building and maintaining the distribution system most of the equipment is repaired locally providing more local jobs and doing the work at a savings.

Stimulating Economy:

Electric Service in rural areas has created a tremendous market for the many modern electric appliances and equipment. Electricity has played a major part in the increased productivity of the farmer. Electric service is available to industry locating in the area.

Strengthening Our Free Enterprise System:

Under our competitive economy rural electric cooperatives serve you in two ways. First by serving the area at as low a cost as possible. Secondly, as long as rural electric cooperatives such as ours exist neither power monopolies nor socialized power is possible.

We salute the 1962-63 Class, many of whom will be listed among our owners.

OUR ## Ever-Present
CHALLENGE

The prosperity and individual freedoms we enjoy today are hard-earned gifts from our forefathers and must never be taken for granted.

Each new generation must stand on its own feet and preserve these freedoms.

The freedoms we enjoy through the American Way have a high price and must be earned over and over.

W. Somerset Maughan expresses it this way: "If a nation values anything more than freedom, it will lose its freedom; and the irony of it is that if it is comfort or money that it values more, it will lose that, too."
